CCDRE DELIVERS SUPPLIES WITH A VALUE OF $6,939,611.85 TO DISASTER SURVIVORS IN 2013

15 STATES! 37 TOWNSHIPS! 109 SHIPMENTS!

Individual contributors, Organizations, Churches, Truck Drivers, CCDRE staff, Volunteers at Nashville Operation Center and Receiving and Distribution Centers Deserve Credit

CCDRE reaching all points in the U.S.
The year 2013 was filled with about every type of disaster you could think of. We closed the year out by working in 15 different states, 37 townships, and a total of 109 shipments with a total dollar value of $6,939,611.85. See the Total Assistance Chart on Page 3. We have had a good year for donations and supplies. Our Directors of Development across the country have done an excellent job taking our message to the donors. As we continue to grow, we pray for the Lord to continue to give us His blessings. We are going to continue to do the right thing to the best of our ability. I continue to say as I have said before, “without our contributions and volunteers we could not operate.” Please continue your support in whatever way possible. Volunteer when you can, support us financially whenever possible, and pray for us every day. With all of us doing this, we can get the job done.

Edsel Ford Brown, a very faithful servant for the Lord, has gone to his eternal home. Edsel was a member of the CCDRE Board of Directors. For more than 20 years he and his wife, Claudine (deceased), were among the most faithful volunteers you could find. On Mondays and Thursdays you could look around the corner and there they were, always working with many other volunteers. Words fail to express my heart-felt feeling about this great Christian couple. Edsel was worth his weight in gold on the Board of Directors. He understood our needs because of his everyday involvement. His presence will be missed by all of us at Disaster Relief. He was laid to rest near his home town of Portland, TN on January 4, 2014.

“The seed is the word of God. The seed that fell among thorns stands for those who hear, but as they go on their way they are choked by life’s worries, riches and pleasures, and they do not mature. But the seed on good soil stands for those with a noble and good heart, who hear the word, retain it, and by persevering produce a crop.”

A TINY SEED PLANTED 24 YEARS AGO CONTINUES TO YIELD UNTOLD BLESSINGS TO MILLIONS

Dennis McClintock, CCDRE Associate Director of Development, in covering his appointed area of the country, recently visited the church in Brookport, IL where he ran upon Lynwood Mathis who had an interesting story to tell. Back in 1990, Mr. Mathis had attended a breakfast meeting at the Wingate Church of Christ in Nashville where the late Neil Howard was in attendance. If you had known Neil Howard, you would remember that it would take volumes to record the good work which he initiated. Neil spoke at the breakfast, and said “it was time to organize a Disaster Relief Effort.” In only a few short months, the Churches of Christ Disaster Relief Effort as we know it was organized. Neil Howard passed away in December, 2004, but the suggestion he made in 1990 continues to bless millions today.

In November, multiple tornadoes struck Illinois. Lynwood Mathis happened to be on the receiving end of disaster relief this time as CCDRE delivered food, baby products, cleaning supplies, water, and many other necessities, and he said this to Dennis.

“This effort has sent millions and millions of dollars-worth of food and supplies to flood, fire, and storm victims all over the U.S., and it has changed the future of many congregations and provided them the opportunity to really help their city and community, and they were able to follow-up with the people they helped and many have been brought to Christ because of this effort. This work also provides many retired Christians and youth groups a great way to serve the Lord.”

Mr. Mathis went on to say, “Now, after being on the receiving end, due to the recent tornado in Brookport where 3 people were killed, many injured, 67 homes destroyed, and 207 damaged, it is very clear that eternal good is being done. When we can provide food, clothing, bedding, furniture, appliances and basic needs so victims can get back on their feet, doors are opened for the greatest cause on earth. It was a great idea at that breakfast in 1990 that would produce great results.”
The fourth quarter of this year has been very active. Requests have been received from many congregations across the U. S. We shipped appliances to Westview Church of Christ in Greely, CO; food and supplies to North Crockett St. Church in Brookport, IL; supplies and beds to East Peoria Church in East Peoria, IL; and supplies to Washington Church in Washington, IL. Furniture and a load of frozen dinners went to Gateway Church in Union Beach, NJ; a load of beds to Lakeview Church in Shawnee, OK; supplies to Cameron Church in Austin, TX; and supplies and water to Montwood Church in El Paso, TX. Supplies were delivered to the Fairfield Church in Centerville, TN. I was in Centerville when the supplies were unloaded, and I was blessed to be able to talk and visit with some of the victims who had to be evacuated from their homes because of the huge industrial fire near their homes. Later I learned they were required to stay out of their homes for several days while waiting for it to all be cleaned up. Our thoughts and prayers are with all the many victims of the storms, flooding and fires this year.

Another year has passed so quickly, and CCDRE has again been ready to help and service many needs and requests. We hope to continue helping wherever the need arises, and we thank all of our volunteers and supporters for sharing your time and resources with this organization. We hope to be able to work in 2014 with the same zeal and interest as past years. Thanks to everyone!

As I look back on the past 8 years where I have been a part of the CCDRE family, there are so many things for which I am thankful. I am thankful for the excellent staff and volunteers, the relief supplies we are able to send to disaster victims, and the volunteers who help distribute the supplies. I am thankful for the many churches and individuals who help make this work possible, and the opportunity to set up our display exhibit at forums, workshops, etc. There are goals I want to meet in 2014 such as visiting the churches in the Mid-Atlantic and Northeastern sections of the U.S. which I have not been able to visit. I want to let them know how CCDRE can allow them to help survivors of disasters. I ask you to please pray for our efforts and help financially whenever it is possible. I encourage you to make a trip to Nashville (see Casteel page 4)

ASSOCIATE DIRECTOR OF DEVELOPMENT

Dennis McClintock

Greetings! It was good to be home for the holidays since we worked through a very busy last quarter of the year.

Tornadoes hit Illinois and Indiana late this year. At least 16 tornadoes tore through Illinois on Nov. 18. Washington, Illinois was hit hard with an EF-4 tornado with 190mph winds damaging over 1,000 homes, taking the life of 1 person and injuring over 120. Pekin and Peoria, Illinois were also hit hard. CCDRE delivered food and furniture to the East Peoria Church of Christ for distribution to the victims.

I traveled to East Peoria where I met with leaders of the East Peoria, Northwest, and Eureka churches. After meeting and much planning, we were able to set up a distribution center in a warehouse just off the square in Washington, IL where the above churches would distribute the supplies to the many families in need. Seven truckloads of supplies were sent and more are in the work. It has been very uplifting to see these churches work together for one cause.

Pekin was also hit, and we have reached out to help in that area also. I am in touch with one of the Elders at Eureka, and he is trying to get a warehouse in the Pekin area so we will be able to help more in that area. Acquiring a space large enough to accommodate a trailer truck load of supplies is always necessary at the time of a disaster.

CCDRE is doing a great work and blessing countless hundreds to the glory of God. Let God be praised for great leaders who have challenged us with plans to do great work for the Lord. Notice the story on page 2 of this Newsletter with regard to the late Neil Howard.

Thanks to all who continue to support this effort. I am looking forward to 2014, and I hope to visit with many congregations and present the CCDRE story. I send greetings from Missouri, and Lori and I wish all of you good health and God’s blessings in 2014.

ASSOCIATE DIRECTOR OF OUTREACH & FOLLOW-UP

Mike Lewis

The last 3 months of 2013 went by extremely fast even though the U.S. was not hit by hurricanes this year.

Parts of Austin, TX were flooded in October, but it never made the national news. We had not heard about it, no one called us for help. Three weeks after the fact, an article appeared in our Nashville newspaper. We contacted Ken Leonard, one of CCDRE’s Associates of Development, who lives outside of Dallas, and he drove down to see what had happened, and to see if any congregations wanted to help their neighbors with supplies that we can provide in their time of need. Not many were interested!

There are still many congregations that don’t understand that we are looking for a church body that is willing to go to work to help their neighbors, not just members of the church, but to reach out to others.

It’s an opportunity for them to help their neighbors with their basic needs of food, water, personal hygiene items, cleaning supplies, and other necessities. They have an opportunity to show others the love Christ talked about, and give them an opportunity to reach out to these people with the Gospel. Many people are more receptive to the Good News when they → (see Lewis page 5) are at a low place in their life!

I drove down to Austin in November. On the 17th I attended Sunday evening services at the Cameron Road church in Austin at 5:00 P.M. Immediately after that service one of their Elders, Mike Dodson, and I went to the Wheless Lane church to attend their evening services, and to be able to speak with their leadership after worship.

We wanted both congregations to know that we had a truckload of supplies on its way to the area for them to work together to distribute. The next several days, I worked trying to find additional congregations that might be willing to help those that had been flooded, but it ended up being just Cameron Road and Wheless Lane churches.

Since we were not aware of the flooding, we were much later than we usually are in delivering supplies. In the area that had flooded, those home owners were living with friends or in motels. They were not going to their homes because power was turned off, so they waited until the weekends to return to their damaged homes.

The Cameron and Wheless Lane churches had a distribution center set up right at the entrance to the damaged area, so when those home owners went into the neighborhood to continue with their clean-up efforts, the local church members could meet them with boxes of food, baby items, diapers, cleaning supplies, and personal care items.

Please continue to pray for those in so many disaster situations across our country. For some, it may have been quite sometime since the disaster actually hit in their home towns, but the recovery path is long for many people. Thank you for assisting CCDRE so we can be ready to help those in need.

BEAT THE BLAME GAME

Allison Churchill, Editorial Assistant for “Guideposts” magazine, offers the following challenge for a more positive feeling about yourself:

Go 3 days in a row without blaming yourself or anyone else. That’s right. Take a break from blame! Suppose someone ruins some plans you have been working on for a long time. Don’t point the finger at someone; think about where they are coming from, or give them a compliment instead. Don’t beat yourself up either. Just figure out the real problem and solve it. You will be amazed how quickly you can do it when you stop laying blame.

Blaming and finding fault cast a dark cloud over your mind and spirit. Why not set the negativity aside and let the light in? That way you will have a sunny day no matter the weather. You may even want to carry this experiment longer than 3 days!

“You ask and do not receive, because you ask with wrong motives, so that you may spend it on your pleasures.”

- James, probably Jesus’ half brother, addresses those who quarrel, fight, covet, and kill because they cannot have what they want.

Every quarter we publish a list of communities and states this ministry has helped through local Churches of Christ. That list should not be seen as a way to quantify results, but rather it is simply an accounting of the money and resources that have been entrusted to us. In many ways the standards of success are much more subtle but very real. So many people have been helped, and I encounter reports from congregations across the country on a regular basis, but some things only become apparent over time.

Volunteers in a disaster area load appliances onto a truck to be delivered to disaster survivors

First, it is clear that there are few disaster relief agencies that respond to as many disasters as CCDRE. It is clearer still there are very few that still have a presence in the community long after everyone else has gone. Admittedly, a large part of that is due to the fact we have found a very →

TIPS FOR HOME SAFETY WHEN YOU’RE AWAY

TO PREVENT BURGLARIES & CREATE THE IMPRESSION YOU’RE HOME

▲ Set frequently used lights, TVs and radios on timers with varying on/off timers to avoid creating a predictable pattern.
▲ Create several lines of defense by installing motion detectors on outside lights, deadbolt locks on all outside doors, and a loud alarm system.
▲ Stop newspaper and mail delivery, or have someone you trust pick up these items everyday.
▲ Make sure doors and windows are closed and locked before you leave.
▲ Ask someone you trust to check your home at random times. Show them how to use the security system, and give them only the keys they will need.

TO AVOID DAMAGE FROM PLUMBING OR ELECTRICAL PROBLEMS

▲ Make sure all plumbing systems are working properly, then turn off water valves to appliances and fixtures (but NOT your home’s main water supply.)
▲ Unplug all expensive electronic equipment, such as computers, TVs and appliances to protect against power surges and lightning strikes.
▲ Adjust your home’s thermostat as needed to save energy – never lower than 55 or higher than 85 degrees.

BE SURE YOU ARE COVERED BY YOUR INSURANCE POLICIES

▲ Premiums should all be paid up, and no payments due while you are away.

A MESSAGE FROM BROOKPORT, ILLINOIS

Lynwood Mathis, Minister for the Brookport Church of Christ in Brookport, Illinois, sends the following message to CCDRE:

“I am so thankful that you and some other great leaders had the vision to start the “Churches of Christ Disaster Relief Effort.” We have almost worked 24/7 since the tornado hit Brookport, killing 3 people, injuring a great number, destroying 67 homes, damaging 207, in addition to the loss of the personal property.

“CCDRE has made it possible for us to really help many people. When the folks find a place to live the need is pressing again. We need all the furniture that we can find. These are mostly poor people; renters that lost everything usually had no insurance and no money to buy more furniture. Those that lived in their own mobile home either had no insurance or didn’t get much because of depreciation. We are still not far enough along to know about appliances.

“The church is being helped tremendously as we help others. My co-worker baptized 2 last week, and the positive feedback has been very encouraging. Thank you from the bottom of my heart in behalf of the people of southern Illinois.”

(Lynwood Mathis is mentioned in the story on page 2 as being at the breakfast meeting in 1990 where the suggestion was introduced to form a disaster relief program.)

successful way to help disaster victims. We do not send large numbers of volunteers to help in disasters; we work with local Churches of Christ, and they provide the manpower to help their own neighbors. That fact alone allows us to be many places at once. Every new disaster brings a new group of willing volunteers from the local congregation to help their neighbors. By the end of the relief effort, many of the core volunteers are tired, but we don’t ask them to relocate to the next disaster. That is one of the main reasons we are still there working with local volunteers long after the TV cameras and most of the other agencies are gone. As the brotherhood becomes more familiar with CCDRE, local members know to call our office when there is a disaster, so we will send truck-loads of food, cleaning supplies, furniture, appliances, etc. to disasters. Many outside the disaster area are not aware of this. This might be the biggest indicator of the growth and success of this ministry, and I will explain why. Typically when a large scale disaster strikes, it makes national news, and we respond quickly. In the last year we have responded to several disasters that never made national news.

Thank you for supporting this good work with your heart, hands and prayers. If you would like for me to speak to your congregation in TX or the western states, and tell you the CCDRE story, you may contact me at 1-888-541-2848.

We continue to be blessed by the opportunity to work on behalf of CCDRE across the southeastern U.S.

We would like to come to your congregation! Whether it is meeting with the eldership or speaking at Bible study, worship or display at a lectureship, we are prepared to come and share information about the work of CCDRE.

If we are privileged to come to your congregation or assist in any way with information about CCDRE in the southeastern U.S., please call me at 1-919-270-8770 or e-mail me at KIPARIS@BELLSOUTH.net.

The calendar now reads 2014, and this year will probably bring many opportunities for congregations to assist those impacted by disasters across the U.S. In 2013, fires, explosions, floods, and devastating tornadoes caused extensive damage across our country. Thanks to the support from individual Christians and congregations of Christians, CCDRE was able to assist so many brethren that offer relief support and extend a Christian hand. The spiritual value of those good works cannot be measured in financial terms, but God will provide the increase. To everyone who supported these efforts financially, physically or in your prayers, THANK YOU!

From October through December, we were privileged to visit many congregations across the southeast.

In Tennessee, we were blessed to worship with the congregation at McKenzie. We also spent a wonderful evening with the Camden Church of Christ in Camden, TN. Thank you so much for your hospitality and support. In Florida, we were again fortunate to spend some time with the Palm Beach Lakes Church of Christ in Palm Beach Gardens, FL. This congregation hosted the 18th Annual South Florida Lectures, a spiritual feast and a great opportunity to visit with many people and talk about the work of CCDRE. In Jacksonville, we enjoyed worshipping with the brethren at the Dean Road Church of Christ. A special thanks to the Southern Hills Church in Franklin, TN. Our evening with this congregation was very special, as we saw old friends and made new acquaintances. Thanks for your continued support.

I was reminded by several people that they have found CCDRE to be an excellent way to honor or remember someone in a meaningful way. Contributions can be made as a living honor or memorial gift, and the contributor is recognized in the next newsletter. A letter which does not mention the amount of the gift is sent to the individual or family advising them of your gift. Please consider this as a way to show honor or remember someone and also allow the work of CCDRE to continue. Remember, contributions can now be made on our website, www.disasterrelieffort.org. Thank you and God bless you.

WEST VIRGINIA CHEMICAL SPILL

About 7,500 gallons of chemicals escaped from an industrial plant in Charleston, West Virginia in January and left about 300,000 people without drinking water. CCDRE delivered 5 trucks of water. Three more trucks loaded with water and other supplies were also shipped.

COLORADO FLOOD VICTIMS SLOWLY BUT SURELY REBUILD

“We are determined to not let this get us down.” This was the sentiment of the Colorado flood victims as they began rebuilding after floods took a heavy toll on residents in and around Glen Haven, CO.

Steve Childs, a retired fire chief, reported to USA Today that half of all structures in Estes Park were affected by the floodwater in some way. A zip line was built to evacuate neighbors trapped on the far side of the river. Flood debris was cut up and nailed into makeshift bridges. CCDRE delivered supplies with a value of $601,336.30 to Colorado in 2013.
DEEP FREEZE HITS U.S.

Most people in the U.S. this winter were wishing for a little global warming as temperatures reached the lowest in years.

Michelle Vanden, St. Paul, MN, where temperatures plunged to 20-30 degrees below zero, said, “It’s been horrible, and it’s going to be even worse. We won’t be able to walk the dogs at all, and we take them out in pretty much anything.” Figuring in the wind chill, it was expected to feel like 50-60 degrees below zero in that area.

Joe Bastardy, a weather forecaster at Weather Bell, said it had been at least 2 decades since the country had seen an air mass this cold. He went on to say, “Temperatures like these can freeze flesh in 10 minutes.” Paradoxically speaking, the weather soon began to warm up to 2 degrees!

TIPS FOR STAYING HEALTHY

▲ KEEP IT CLEAN. Washing up with soap and warm water can help prevent spreading germs as you shake hands or hug others. Cover your mouth and nose by quickly moving your arm in front of your mouth or nose.

▲ EAT RIGHT. Most fruits and vegetables are naturally low in fat and calories, and are filling. Use your will power and choose fresh fruit as a sweet alternative, and substitute a serving of fresh vegetables for high-calorie options.

▲ DON’T SKIP MEALS. Start the day with a healthy breakfast. Someone has said that breakfast is the most important meal of the day. The word “breakfast” means just what it says, you are breaking a fast.

▲ GET ADEQUATE SLEEP. A few missed hours of sleep each night can trick your body into releasing hormones that prompt eating and weight-gain. Avoid eating near bedtime; your body will be trying to digest food instead of sleeping.

▲ REMEMBER EXERCISE. Establish a workout routine and stick to it. It may be boring, but, remember, you are trying to stay healthy. Walking is accepted as the best all-around form of exercise, and it doesn’t cost anything.

▲ STAY WARM if the weather is cold. Health issues, such as asthma, higher blood pressure, and a compromised immune system, can arise when your body compensates for cold weather.

PEACE OF MIND WITH CCDRE

Tom Herman, a Journalist with the Knoxville, TN “News Sentinel,” recently issued an article, “How to Spot Fraudulent Charities.”

When a disaster strikes, those who have compassion for others are the first to want to help, and often there is some question about whether their donation will actually be used for the disaster victims, or if it may go into some swindler’s pocket.

Keep that in mind if you get requests for donations from relief organizations you have never heard of – even if they sound like well-known organizations.

This is one thing you don’t have to worry about when you contribute to CCDRE. You can rest assured that there is not a relief organization where a greater percentage of the donation goes directly to the victims than at CCDRE.

Awards have been received based on the integrity of this organization.

FLOOD INSURANCE SKYROCKETS

Thousands of homeowners in flood-prone parts of the United States saw the cost of their subsidized insurance skyrocket on Oct. 1, as long-awaited reforms to the National Flood Insurance Program kicked in. The federal government has offered below-market insurance since 1968, but the cost of mega storms like Katrina and Sandy have left the plan nearly $30 billion in the red. The changes aim to bring costs closer in line with the actual financial risks posed by frequent floods, but they will also make the federal flood insurance that much more expensive for many people.

Predictably, property owners and politicians from the coast of New Jersey to the Gulf beaches are outraged. The population of shoreline counties has increased 40% since 1970, putting more people and property at risk. Scientists predict that climate change could cause sea levels to rise as much as 3 ft. over the next century. That, in turn, could put densely populated coasts in even greater danger. It won’t be easy or cheap to insure against that threat.

God, the Potter, we, the clay

God told Jeremiah to go down to the potter’s house, and there He (God) would give him (Jeremiah) a message. Jeremiah records, “So I went down to the potter’s house, and I saw him working at the wheel. But the pot he was shaping from the clay was marred in his hands; so the potter formed it into another pot, shaping it as seemed best to him.”

We are not unlike this marred clay. By nature we come into this world as stubborn, selfish, impatient, inconsiderate, and boisterous, but beautiful little creatures, and some of us stay that way until we allow the Potter to mold us into the kind of “pot” He wants us to be.

Our sovereign Lord further reminded Jeremiah that He could do whatever He chose with His stubborn people, “Like clay in the hands of the potter, so are you in my (God’s) hand.”

If you have ever watched a potter mold a lump of clay, you have seen how he beats and pounds, rolls and flattens it out, and cuts it much like your grandmother made biscuits (depending on your age.) The potter may roll it out, stretch it, twist it, cut it, beat and pound it some more, but if he is a good potter, like our heavenly Potter, he will not give up until he gets that clay into the shape he wants it.

May we thank God that He considers us His lump of clay. Many of our lives consist of being beat down, flattened out, punched, torn, and twisted, but if our faith holds out, our Potter will eventually mold and perfect us into the kind of “pots” He wants to live with Him forever.
